Percy Urges Cut In Rotation of Military Tours

Sen. Charles H. Percy (R., Ill.) has called for a 25 percent reduction in rotation of military personnel (Permanent Change of Station moves) to save American taxpayers approximately $140 million in fiscal 1971.

Percy, who has called for budget cuts amounting to over $1.6 billion to date, has said he will attempt to identify items whose reduction or elimination could total as much as $4 billion.

Speaking on the floor of the Senate, Percy called the frequent rotation of military personnel "overdone, wasteful and inefficient" and said that lengthening the duration of certain tours would be an obvious course of action in lowering the $1.3 billion earmarked for moving military personnel from assignment to assignment.

Senator Percy indicated that the reduction of these rotations by 25 percent would have two immediate beneficial effects.

"First, by a lengthening of tours, there would be less frequent moving from base to base. Consequently, the military families would have the opportunity to enjoy a greater degree of stability. I have talked to military men with families and they have been enthusiastic about the potential beneficial effects of this proposal."

"The second advantage would be one of economy. By reducing the number of PCS moves by just 25 percent, a savings of approximately $140 million a year could be realized. If organizations in the private sector rotated personnel as frequently as the military services do, they would go bankrupt. The practice is overdone, is wasteful and inefficient as now carried out."

"The budget for permanent Change of Station moves, or PCS, in fiscal 1970 was $1.3 billion. Of this, approximately $460 million will go for rotation of servicemen after 12 months of duty in Southeast Asia. This expenditure is certainly necessary and I fully support it."

"Another $300 million of the total is to go toward the normal cost of training and separation. I presume this is also necessary."

"We are, therefore, left with approximately $550 million. I have studied this proposed expenditure, and it is my opinion that the Secretary of Defense should immediately undertake an investigation to determine how best to reduce from this remainder, at least 25 percent of the cost of Permanent Change of Station moves."

Rowen-Martin To Aid Annual Safety Drive

Dan Rowan and Dick Martin, producers and stars of television's top rated comedy show, have been named honorary chairmen of the Auto Industries National Drive for Safety, it was announced at Washington by Byron J. Nichols, Chrysler Corporation vice-president and chairman of the nationwide Auto Dealers Traffic Safety Council.

The life-saving campaign, geared to the national "cut accidents" goals, is slated to start in mid-September coincident with the opening of community school and driver education programs.

Cooperating in the drive will be 2,000 members of the Auto Dealers Traffic Safety Council, the Highway Users Federation for Safety and Mobility, and top executives of the automobile, tire and related industries.

Rowan and Martin, whose "Laugh-In" television show will be utilized to tee off the campaign, say "Drive for Safety" messages will be directed to motorists of all ages, with special interest and appeal to the student, teenage and young adult driver.

Loans Still Available To Post-War II Vets

Although July 25 marked the end of home loan benefits for World War II veterans, the deadline did not affect current home loan benefits for other veterans, according to Administrator of Veterans Affairs Donald E. Johnson who pointed out that Korean and Vietnam era veterans are still eligible.

Johnson said that two million World War II veterans, who were still eligible, failed to utilize this home loan benefit. He noted, however, that nearly eight million G.I. and direct loans, valued at about $80 billion, were made under the program shortly after World War II.

More than five and one-half million of these loans went to World War II veterans, and the remainder to Korean and post-Korean veterans.

Several million other veterans of World War II failed to use their loan guarantees prior to the deadline, but their entitlement had expired prior to the cut-off date.

SIU-SW Team Studies Car Exhaust Effects

"Environmental biologists working today for a better world tomorrow" is the slogan of at least eight science majors at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus.

It all began last February as a three-week project for a microbiology-class. The eight students hope it will soon become a funded research project and that results will be published.

The project is studying the effect of pollution from automobiles on land bordering major highways. Headed by Cathy Earhart of Collinsville, the student team is trying to find out the nature of lead in the environment and its effect on the food value of plants. Possible deficiencies in food from these plants may have an effect on human life, Miss Earhart pointed out.

Using plastic bags to hold their specimens, shovels and brooms, the group sets out for a highway that has a daily traffic volume of 20,000 cars.

"We call the Highway Department in advance and obtain the history of the road," Miss Earhart explained, "when it was built, if they use insecticides—anything that might affect the environment."

Take Roadside Samples
First, samples are taken at the road's edge, then the median and then at intervals ranging from one and one-half feet to 750 feet from the road. The surface of the road is swept for soil samples and analyzed for lead content. The student researchers are using lab space along the test sites and wash glassware in the lab.

project are Dr. Wayne Black and Dr. Gary Carlson of the St. Louis County Health Department, who donate their time to run prepared samples on their atomic absorption spectrophotometer to test for lead.

Whether the original bill was published, a legal formality required prior to enactment, is now the question and under investigation, the mayor commented.

He noted that a property owner or recently "dug up the ordinance, took it to the street department and requested it be enforced." Only two decades late, Farney added.

Further scrutiny of council record books turned up the ordinance, approved by the aldermen and signed by former Mayor Leonard R. Davis on June 26, 1950.

Other members of the student environmental team at SIU are Jacqueline Michel, East Alton; Dick Kobitz, Caseyville; Kenneth Dively, Belleville; Douglas Ohlenford, Collinsville; Jim Twichell, Hardin; Mary Smith, Columbia; and Lt. Col. Edward Healy (ret.) of Granite City, a graduate student.

Faculty sponsor is Marion Kumer of Collinsville, associate professor in the Science and Technology Division.

The team enlisted the help of Boy Scout Troop 88 of Collinsville. The scouts direct traffic along the test sites and wash glassware in the lab.

No-Parking Signs Go Up 20 Years Late

"No parking" signs, "not behind the times," Mayor Donald Farney emphasized recently, despite evidence to the contrary.

The mayor's comments were directed toward the enforcement of the ordinance, which authorized placement of the signs, was enacted by the city council.

Partney said installation of the parking restriction notices between Madison avenue and an alley on 25th street, was brought to his attention by several callers who objected to the signs.

An effort to uncover the ordinance relating to the project was instigated by the mayor, who discovered the signs were authorized under Ordinance No. 1348.

Whether the original bill was published, a legal formality required prior to enactment, is now the question and under investigation, the mayor commented.

He noted that a property owner or recently "dug up the ordinance, took it to the street department and requested it be enforced." Only two decades late, Farney added.

Venice Council

the 300 block of Main street.

Remodeling Projects

Building permits were issued to Fred Williams, repair and remodeling of a residence at 1139 Market street, $2500, and to Sam Rosch, remodeling of a building at 324 Broadway, $3000.

Plans were made for city officials to attend the annual Illinois Municipal League convention Oct. 14 in Springfield.

Due to trends in the toll bridge insurance field which have made it more difficult for brokers to place coverage with insurers, the council designated Alexander & Alexander as the sole broker authorized to obtain new three-year policies for the period beginning Aug. 15.

It was noted that Hardesty & Hanover, McKinley Bridge consulting engineers, have ordered an increase in the bridge replacement insurance from $25 million to $31 million due to rising construction costs.

Alexander & Alexander has been the consistent low bidder in the Venice-owned bridge since acquisition by the city, it was noted.

It was decided to obtain eight new tires for two Venice police cars and to try wire mesh tires on one of the two for comparison on frequency of flat tires.

Garage, Auto Struck

Venice Schools

lection period ended July 31. In addition to the special 40-cent increase allowed by the referendum, the Venice school district rate applied for the 1969 tax year on bills collected this summer also increased through normal rises in other funds.

The total 1969 tax rate for the district extended by the county clerk's office was $2.839 per $100 assessed valuation, an increase of 54.2 cents over the 1968 tax rate of $2.297.

The higher 1969 rate was based on a total tax levy of $1,004,207, while the $2.297 rate of the previous year was based on a tax levy of $897,747.

The increase in this year's educational fund budget lies in the appropriations for teachers and staff salaries, the cost of operating adult education classes at the Lincoln Vocational Center, and the cost of $240,000 for anticipation warrants that was not listed in last year's budget.

Generally, administrative costs are but slightly higher than those budgeted during the 1968-70 year. Administration costs are projected this year at $74,066 compared with $72,039 last year. Salaries account for $58,016 of this year's administrative budget, with the balance consisting of $4500 in contractual services, $2000 for supplies, $4350 for travel expense and $3000 contingency.

Salaries on Rise

Salaries in the instruction account, however, total $749,829 in this year's budget, compared to $644,742 in the 1968-70 appropriation. This increase of $105,087 consists primarily of salaries in the instruction account. Administration costs for elementary and secondary teachers. The new budget projects $388,816 in salaries for elementary teachers, compared with $334,225 last year, and $368,740 in salaries for secondary teachers, compared with $277,040 budgeted last year.

For teachers aides, the new budget estimates salaries of $15,638, up from $10,806 last year; salaries for dividers of $2500, up from $1750; salaries for secretaries and clerks at $10,474, up from $9063, and other salaries for instruction at $17,280, up from $14,750, up from $10,000. Adult education costs at the Lincoln center total $483,774 in the new budget, an increase of $97,608 over last year's total.

This year's budget contains no appropriation for site acquisition, although the district budgeted $17,100 for this purpose in the 1968-70 appropriation bill. The sum of $45,757 is budgeted for improvements, down from last year's figure of $38,805. The money set up in the budget this year provides for a new roof on the high school, painting the school buildings, resurfacing the tennis courts and other miscellaneous improvements, Pier said.

OLIVER HILEMAN

appropriation of $366,166. The new budget includes $317,124 in salaries, $31,400 in contractual services, $15,000 for materials and supplies and $100,000 for "other" purposes to make up the $663,744 total.

New Supply Item

The cost figure for contractual supplies is a new item and was not included in the budget last year. The 1968-70 budget set up $67,680 for "other" purposes which at that time was specified for equipment.

The educational fund cost projection of $240,000 for anticipation warrants is budgeted under category that reflects the largest share of the educational fund increases.

The item for anticipation warrants was not carried in last year's budget, but was included in a projected insurance expenditure of $33,674 to make up the total appropriation for fiscal 1969.

This year's budget for fixed charges, however, includes $297 for the Municipal Retirement fund, $28,438 for insurance, the $240,000 for anticipation warrant payments, $26,475 for salaries, and $71,000 marked for "other" purposes for total fixed charges of $325,000.

Must Repay Working Cash

A major part of the anticipated revenue shortage in the Building fund results from a $92,257 repayment to the working cash fund for money borrowed during the 1968-70 year.

Total Building fund appropriations for operational expenses amount to $125,016, down slightly from last year's $127,150. Operational salaries are budgeted at $86,516 in the new budget, compared with $82,650 last year. Estimated cost of operations is set at $3000, same as last year, but appropriations for heating costs this year is $12,000, down from $16,500, and projected expenditures for utilities total $21,500 this year, down from $25,000.

This year's budget contains no appropriation for site acquisition, although the district budgeted $17,100 for this purpose in the 1968-70 appropriation bill. The sum of $45,757 is budgeted for improvements, down from last year's figure of $38,805. The money set up in the budget this year provides for a new roof on the high school, painting the school buildings, resurfacing the tennis courts and other miscellaneous improvements, Pier said.

employees and fix their salaries without council sanction, but the mayor refused to revoke the appointments. In mid-March, the council began a practice of separating the salaries of the two women from the bi-monthly payroll and releasing payment of their salaries.

Seid For Pay

The two women employees brought suit for their back pay in May and won a lower court decision. Partney claimed this decision was a violation of her right to make the appointments. Despite the court judgment, the women refused to accept the pay the salaries. Mrs. Buttry resigned in July because of the controversy and the mayor transferred Mrs. Russell from the inspection department to the police department as a dispatch.

Last month, Partney refused to sign any payroll checks until the council approved payment of the salaries to the two women dispatchers. As a result the city had its first payroll pay day in recent history.

Officials of six unions representing city employees filed mandamus proceedings in circuit court at Edwardsville, asking the court to direct Partney to sign the payroll checks. On the morning of a scheduled hearing, an agreement was reached for settlement of the immediate issue. In that stipulation Partney agreed to sign the payroll checks and the council agreed to approve payment of salaries to Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Russell.

The mayor also agreed to transfer the two women to dispatchers to other jobs pending outcome of a suit to be filed in behalf of the council to test the mayor's authority under state law to make appointments and set salaries for city employees, both on a permanent basis and a 30-day basis.

That proceeding has been filed, but a hearing date has not been set.

USAC and Speedway officials are attempting to reschedule the event during September. Pre-season plans called for the midget cars to race here three times this year.

Racing on the first scheduled date was prevented by severe storm warnings and the appearance of a tornado cloud over the track. All standing midget car track records were broken on the second date, which included a full slate of racing.

EARL says...

Between Annawan, Illinois and Mineral, a distance of four miles, there are 7,000 acres of strip mine lakes. I had intended to tell you of my trials and tribulations while vacationing there, but instead, I have something else I would rather say.

When I left I was naturally concerned as to how things would go at EARL'S Discount Store in my absence, but I wouldn't have gone had I not felt it would be adequately taken care of by my crew.

Because the Sidewalk Sale was to be held during my vacation period I asked my Mother to help out last Friday. That evening she called me and gave such a glowing report about how busy we had been, and how everyone at the store worked so hard that I was overwhelmed by the efforts put forth by my crew.

So it is, I wish to publicly thank a loyal and helpful staff of workers at EARL'S. My thanks to: Manager, Chuck Adams, Salesladies, Mrs. Hazel Dietler, Mrs. (Helen) Leslie, Mrs. (Laura) Papp, and Stock-boy, Gary Denny. We're a TEAM! THAT'S EARL, BROTHER.

Wide Travel for Stanek Aboard Cargo Ship

Navy Seaman Gary A. Stanek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph M. Stanek, 2305 Bern Avenue, is making his second cruise to the Western Pacific aboard the attack cargo transport ship Durham.

He is assigned to the ship's Second Division. His job entails handling lines while the ship is entering or leaving port, operating a fork-lift truck during cargo loading operations and maintaining decks and rigging when the ship is at sea.

"I also spend a lot of time on the bridge standing helm watches with the officer of the deck when we're at sea," reports the husky seaman.

Part of Original Crew
Stanek is a "plankowner" aboard the Durham. That is, he was one of the members of the original crew when the modern cargo vessel was commissioned in May 1968. Each man received a specially-prepared certificate as a memento of the occasion.

"I think the pre-commissioning period of training was one of the highlights of my tour of duty," said the 21-year-old sailor.

"I went to cargo handling, firefighting, and several other short schools. I learned a lot about the ship before I ever went aboard."

He was aboard the ship when it visited ports in the Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico, the Panama Canal Zone, Hawaii, the Philippines and Vietnam.

Expo 70 Objective
"It'd really like to see Japan on this cruise," he mentioned. "I'd like to see Expo 70 and learn about the people of Japan."

He holds the National Defense and Vietnam Service medals.

Stanek is a 1967 graduate of Granite City high school. "Before I came on active duty I was a shear operator at Laclede Steel Co. in Madison," he said. "I'll probably go back to work there when I get out of the Navy."

His wife, Sandra, resides at 344 Redbud Avenue. The Durham (LKA-114) is "the boatswain mate's dream and the boilerman's Shangri La."

It's modern cargo handling equipment and automated engine-room facilities make life safer and less hectic for her deck force and boiler tenders.

Amphibious Assaults
She is one of the Navy's five new Charleston Class amphibious attack cargo ships designed to carry Marines and their equipment to enemy beaches more quickly and efficiently than older ships of the same type.

For three months, the Durham will be cruising in the Far East. She will be ready to tackle freight runs between Yankee Station off Vietnam and Subic Bay, Republic of the Philippines, or launch her Marines as a part of an amphibious assault on a moment's notice.

The 575-foot ship is "home" for more than 400 Navy officers and men.

About half of her crew is made up of boatswain's mates and deck seamen who keep the one-year-old vessel shipshape, pilot her assault boats and handle cargo. Every one is thankful for the modern equipment aboard the Durham that helps them load and unload cargo.

Older Methods Burdensome
On older LKA's it takes 20 to 25 men approximately 45 minutes to remove the lid from one cargo hold. Each lid is in 15 to 25 sections weighing approximately 200 pounds each. Every section must be moved by hand.

Durham's deck seamen are spared all this hot work. One man can open any of the ship's four huge cargo holds simply by pressing a button. The button electrically activates a hydraulic motor which uncovers the hold in less than five minutes.

The booms, rigging and winches aboard the Durham also save the deck force a lot of hard work.

The ship has 12 cargo booms with lifting capacities of 15 to 20 tons each. The two 70-ton booms are more than twice as large as those found on any other type of Navy cargo ship.

Below the main deck, her cargo holds are capable of carrying more than 120,000 cubic feet of equipment and can be reached by six electrically-operated cargo elevators. Fully loaded she displaces 20,700 tons.

Volleyball Tourney
At sea, the cargo holds are put to good use even when they are empty. En route to the Philippines in May, the second level of Hold One was the site of intramural volleyball competition. Twelve teams of sailors struggled to win the Durham championship.

In Hold Two, nightly karate classes help fill off-duty hours. One of the ship's leading petty officers spends two hours after chow teaching 32 men some of the moves that earned him a black belt.

On her deck, the Durham carries 11 assault boats. Four of these are LCM-6 landing craft, each capable of moving 75 Marines and their equipment swiftly from the ship to a hostile shore (or a 100-man liberty party to a friendly shore).

LCM-6 landing craft, somewhat smaller and slower than the LCM-9's, make up an additional liberty or assault wave of five boats.

The ship also carries two small speedboats used by the boat group commander and his assistant during amphibious assaults. One doubles as the captain's gig for official visits ashore or to other ships.

Helicopter Landing Pad
The Durham is also one of the first Navy cargo ships equipped with a helicopter landing platform aft. The pad is big enough to accommodate the CH-53 Sea Stallion, largest in Naval service.

On days when no flights are scheduled, the helo deck often becomes a picnic ground for open-air barbecues or an iron sun deck for sailors working on their tans.

Durham's propulsion plant can be operated by only four men. Three of them stand watch over an automated control console on which lights, knobs and buttons reveal the status of the entire engineering plant.

The control room is air-conditioned, a pleasant surprise for men accustomed to working in the 100-degree heat found in the engine rooms of older Navy ships.

Meanwhile, the fourth man roves through the engine room machinery, troubleshooting any problems that cannot be corrected by the twist of a knob or the push of a button in the control center.

The mess decks—Durham's floating living room—dining room combination—and sleeping compartments are all air-conditioned.

Once or twice a week the crew enjoys bingo night. The ship's soda fountain, library and store are open and first-run movies are shown each evening.

Role in Operation Blue Jay
The Durham proved her value when she served as the last ship in operation Keystone Blue Jay; the Phase Three redeployment of Marines and their equipment from Vietnam last November as a part of the troop withdrawal program.

At a pier in Da Nang, Durham's crew loaded more than 200 Marines, their gear, 180 vehicles and 400 tons of bridging in a round-the-clock effort that continued for 36 hours.

The Marines and equipment which ranged from Jeeps to 52-ton tanks—arrived in Long Beach, Calif., 18 days later. Unloading took less than 12 hours.

The Durham's men work hard, but they enjoy their off-duty hours and are rewarded with visits to exotic liberty ports.

They have been through the Panama Canal and seen Panama City, Panama; Pearl Harbor, Hawaii; Subic Bay, Republic of the Philippines; Da Nang, Republic of Vietnam; and San Diego, Calif.

The ship is homeported in Long Beach, Calif. Her commanding officer is Captain John D. Stensrud of McCanna, N. D.

Porked Auto Struck

Harvey McElroy, 3047 St. Clair Avenue, lost control of his auto when the brakes pulled to the right and struck the left rear of the car of Gary Gibson, 2638 East 27th Street, while it was parked at his home at noon Thursday.

Lawrence Heaton, 4216 St. Bernard Avenue, reported at 8:05 a.m. Friday that two hubcaps were stolen from his truck while it was parked on the Granite City Steel Co. lot at 16th Street and Madison Ave.

Auto Headlights Broken
Larry Whitsell, 2309 Waterman Avenue, reported at 11:30 p.m. Thursday that someone broke the left headlights of his 1965 auto.

Police Issue Warning On Bogus Currency

A good quality bogus currency in $50, $20 and $10 denominations has been appearing in the metropolitan area and merchants have been warned to be on the alert for such bills, according to Quad-City area authorities.

Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation have notified police that the $50 bills are printed as a 1969 series, San Francisco, with the number G1 on the front and a number 10 on the back. The serial number on the $50 bill is L 0068887A.

The $20 bills are Federal St. Louis series, 1963, numbered G51 on the front and 55 on the back, according to circulars distributed to police, merchants and businessmen.

Bills in $10 denomination are printed in two series, one a Federal St. Louis series, 1963A, numbered B54 on the front and 47 on the back and a serial number of H4227688A. The other $10 bill is a Federal Chicago series, 1963A, with a front plate number B54 and 47 on the back; serial number C6444903A. Serial numbers may vary, the FBI said.

Color Film on Israel At Emmanuel Church

The film, "His Land," will be shown at the Emmanuel Baptist Church, 1800 Pontoon road, Wednesday at 7:45 p.m. Pastor Vernon D. Covington has issued an invitation to the public to attend the special service. Admission is free.

Across a barren land, scarred by centuries of war and neglect, the specters of ancient Israel appear, hover and fade away. Suddenly there is movement of a different sort and slowly, steadily, a startling transformation begins to take place. Thus begins "His Land," the story of Israel from ancient to modern times.

The one-hour color motion picture takes viewers on a journey through space, time and current events. They see graphically living testimony to the words of the prophets when they proclaimed that Israel would take her place among the nations of the world.

In the company of Cliff Barrows and Cliff Richard, England's popular singer who sings a number of new Ralph Carmichael songs—some of which were actually written on location—the audience travels through vibrant streets and lonely paths of the nation whose destiny is daily discussed in the counsels of governments all over the world. They are the same paths taken by Jesus and the prophets: Galilee, the wilderness, Jerusalem, the Mount of Olives. People of modern Israel also are shown as they work, play and build.

Hospital Joins in Jr. College Program

A two-year Associate Degree program for Medical Record Technicians is being offered this year at Belleville Area College. Practical experience in the course will be gained during the second year of instruction by working at St. Elizabeth Hospital, it was announced this week.

Then new program basically involves all phases of office management that is medically oriented. Medical Record Technicians work closely with physicians, nurses and other members of the health team in the maintenance of patients' medical records. Work performed by the technician concerns utilization of medical records for the benefit of the patient, medical research projects and education.

A spokesman for the local hospital said that St. Elizabeth is working with Belleville Area College through Mrs. Maurine Wheeler, R.R.L., medical record librarian, who is a member of the college's advisory committee.

Mrs. Wheeler pointed out the demand for trained Medical Record Technicians far exceeds the supply. Interested high school graduates may secure additional information by contacting the occupational counselor at the Belleville Area College at 255-3700, 225-2704, or Mrs. Wheeler at 876-2020, ext. 222.

Charles Wetzel, Ex-GC Performer, Dies at 80

Funeral services were held Friday in Toledo, Ohio, for Charles (Baldy) Wetzel, 80, an old-time showman and former Granite City resident who will be remembered by many as the piano player and comedian who performed at this old Briceley's Tavern on Namooki road.

Mr. Wetzel and a long-time friend, Clarence Weaver of 2440 Logan avenue, were both born in Williamsport, Pa., and came to this area to live. According to Mr. Weaver, Wetzel made his professional debut at the age of 10. He was employed at a furniture factory for 30 cents a day and one noon wandered into a pool room in Pennsylvania and began to play the piano. The manager, Jimmy Sebring, a right fielder for the Pittsburgh Pirates, asked the youngster to play two favorite songs, "Annie Laurie" and "The Rosary," and was so pleased with his performance he hired him to play every day.

Wetzel's musical talent and his ability to entertain people took him to burlesque, medicine shows and road companies. He served as musical director for such shows as the Ziegfeld Follies and George White's Scandals.

Weaver recalled, "He played with test shows, stock companies and in vaudeville. He also claimed the distinction of leading the first dance band that featured a vocalist."

During the 1930's when marathon achievements of all types were popular, Wetzel held the record for continuous piano playing for 48½ hours, without a break.

His local fame, however, was based on the special brand of entertainment he provided in night spots at parties and meetings, where he would include his audience as participants in his performance.

Mr. Wetzel resided with his wife at 2044 Greenhick lane, Toledo, Ohio, at the time of his death.

U. S. Engineers Set Permit Requirements

The Army Corps of Engineers today announced new permit requirements under the Refuse Act (33 USC 407) concerning discharges into navigable waters. Permits will be required for all industrial discharges into navigable waters and their tributaries. New permits will be required where existing permits were granted without adequate consideration of the quality of the effluent.

The Corps' revised requirements are in compliance with the Environmental Policy Act of 1969 which requires agencies to consider environmental impact in the administration of public laws, and with the Water Quality Improvement Act of 1970 which requires applicants for Federal permits to file a certification from the appropriate State that the discharge will not violate applicable water quality standards.

Under the revised procedures, discharges of pollutants into water quality will be considered in processing the permit. While permits will be required for all future discharges into navigable waters and their tributaries, the Corps of Engineers will initially concentrate on major sources of industrial pollution not covered by existing permits. The Corps hopes that through widespread knowledge of its new permit requirements including State certification, it will, along with other Federal, State, and local anti-pollution activities, encourage industries to accelerate their own anti-pollution efforts.

Pedestrian Safety Levee Board Delays Suit on Tunnel Cost

Granite City has earned an award in the American Automobile Association's 31st annual Pedestrian Safety Inventory. It was announced Saturday that the municipality will receive a pedestrian safety citation for going one year without a pedestrian fatality.

Kansas City, University City and Florissant, Mo., and O'Fallon, Ill., won special citations for their low casualty records per population during 1969. City records for Illinois, Missouri and Kansas were compiled by the Auto Club of Missouri and forwarded to AAA headquarters in Washington, D. C., for the national judging.

A total of 202 cities took part in the inventory, competing in eight categories determined by population size.

Six Days to Nominate ASCS Farm Committees

Eligible farm voters have only six days left in which to circulate and sign nominating petitions for ASC Community Committees. August 17 is the final date petitions may be filed at the Madison County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) Office. Mail elections are set for the second week in September.

"I want to re-emphasize to farmers who are eligible to vote that nominating candidates by petition is of prime importance," Lee Rogers, director of the Madison County ASCS office said.

If six or more eligible candidates are nominated by petition in an ASC community, no other names will go on the ballot. In the past, the incumbent community committee also had the privilege of making nominations. Now, a community committee may nominate only if fewer than six eligible candidates are nominated by petition — and the committee may nominate only the number of candidates needed to make up a full slate of six nominees," Rogers said.

No special forms are required for a petition—only a sheet of paper naming the candidate and the ASC community. Signatures of at least six eligible voters in the community are required on each petition. Only one candidate may be named on a petition but voters may sign as many petitions as they want.

In general, to be eligible to become a candidate or to vote, a person must have a farm interest in the community and must be eligible to participate in one or more programs administered by the county ASCS office. Full details on eligibility requirement for candidates and voters are available at the county ASCS office, along with a list of known eligible voters in the county.

Some Truckers May Obtain Licenses in Other States

A notable decline in the sale of truck license plates was noted by Secretary of State, Paul Powell today as he again reminded truckers of the mid-July deadline for display of their plates.

Based on end-of-July figures, plate sales are lagging 56,000 behind the 758,000 sold for the same period last year.

Powell warned that some truckers might find it attractive to license their vehicles in other states, due to an increase in truck fees under House Bill 436, which did not receive his support.

He said truck license plates may still be purchased directly from the auto license facilities in the Centennial Building or at Ninth and North Grand in Springfield, or in Chicago at 5401 North Elston Avenue, 5301 West Lexington or 9901 Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. drive.

The secretary added that it is now too late to apply for plates by mail in order to have them on display by midnight Saturday.

Faith Williams Bride of Kent Corwin Holsinger

In a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening, Miss Faith Williams of Ava, Mo., became the bride of Kent Corwin Holsinger, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Holsinger of Collinsville, formerly of Granite City, at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church in this city where the parents of the bridegroom were married.

The parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Wallace A. Williams of Ava, Mo.

The vows were pronounced at 7 o'clock by the Rev. Lloyd Reynolds of Ava. Lighted tapers in brass candelabra, together with baskets of white summer flowers, formed the altar setting with a background of greenery. The aisles were illuminated with hurricane lamps entwined with greenery and white ribbon and the candles were lighted by Mrs. Mai Thompson and Miss Gwen Hake.

Mrs. Isabel Schmidt, organist, played a prelude of wedding music and served as accompanist for Miss Beth Johnson, a violinist, and cousin of the bridegroom, as she played "This Is My Beloved," and Mrs. Weldon Sanders, vocalist, who sang "At Dawning." After the vows were exchanged Mrs. Sanders sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Escorted by her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride was lovely in an Empire gown with a crystal white angel skin satin skirt and an Alencon lace bodice with long sleeves gathered at the wrists. Double rows of seed pearl trim outlined the cuffs and the high neck, and a detachable chapel train was trimmed with appliques of lace medallions and loops of pearls.

A shoulder-length heirloom veil of silk illusion bordered with rose point lace which was worn by the bride's twin sister at her wedding, was secured with a double tiara of pearls and crystals and the only ornament worn by the bride was a strand of pearls, the bridegroom's gift.

White rosebuds and stephanotis were combined in the bride's colonial bouquet tied with white streamers.

Mrs. William Blumfelder, twin sister of the bride, was honor attendant and Miss Gayle Holsinger, the bridegroom's sister, and Miss Lynn Sanders of Athens, Ga., a niece of the bride, served as bridesmaid, and junior maid, respectively.

Mrs. Blumfelder was in a floor-length Empire gown of misty rose crepe with a darker shade of scalloped lace yoke and sleeves. A single organza and crepe rose held in place a veil of rose colored net. She carried a colonial nosegay of pink Happiness roses. The bridesmaids, similarly attired, also held nosegays.

Little Evelyn Williams, a cousin of the bride, served as flower girl. She wore a floor-length pink dotted swiss frock with a short waist, and long sleeves gathered at the wrists. She carried rose petals in a lace bag.

Harry Thoreau of Granite City was best man, and John Douglas of St. Louis and Preston Holsinger of Bartlesville, Okla., were groomsmen. Ushers were John Zimmerman and William Blumfelder.

Banyan Tree, Cacti Highlight Shaws Botanical Garden Tour by Secretaries

Twenty-nine members of the Tri-Cities Chapter, The National Secretaries Association, and guests toured Missouri Botanical Garden in St. Louis Thursday evening after regular visiting hours through arrangements made by C. P. Whitehead, president of the board of trustees, and Mark Paddock, assistant director of the Garden.

Included were three members of the Abraham Lincoln Chapter, Springfield, Ill., Miss Beverly Bleisch, president, and Mrs. Myrtle McCormick and Mrs. Betty Harris. Also present was Robert Arreaga, one of St. Louis' top photographers, who took pictures of the group.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Markuly of Madison have returned from Chicago where they spent the past week attending the 78th International Exposition of Professional Photographers of America. The sessions consisted of lectures on various phases of photographic art.

was of particular interest along with floral rocks. The rocks are lava stone, one of the few banyan trees capable of floating in a recent issue of a magazine featuring the waterfalls of Hawaii. The photograph used on the cover was a picture of a Climatron waterfall.

Another point of interest was a huge banyan tree from East India. It sends out aerial roots and it is possible for one tree to cover an entire block. These trees also are found in Hawaii.

Cutak explained that the temperature in the Climatron is controlled for certain areas. Trees and plants that require warm days and cool nights are in one location, and those requiring cool days and warm nights are in another. Warm days and warm nights are in a third area, and the remaining area is devoted to plants and trees which thrive best in a cool day and cool night atmosphere.

Included on the tour was a visit to the newly decorated Desert House, featuring hundreds of species of cactus.

The group adjourned to the Museum Building, where box lunches were served. Prizes were won by Mrs. Linda Frilichey, Mrs. Adrienne Warhol and Mrs. Peggy Moore.

Before leaving, each person was allowed to select from a variety of cactus plants in individual containers, especially prepared for the group by Shaw's Garden.

The next meeting of the chapter will be on Thursday, Sept. 3, at the Rose Bowl. Miss Twila Edmonds and Mrs. Adrienne Warhol will make arrangements for the meeting and can be contacted by any interested secretaries who would like to attend the meeting.

Mayor Seeks Check on 1970 Census to Avert Fund Loss

Expressing strong reservations over accuracy of preliminary census figures, Mayor Donald Partney today called for a check on the 1970 census by regional authorities, showing a population cut in Granite City of 3,967 persons during the past decade, Mayor Donald Partney today appealed to all local residents who may not have been previously counted to complete the adjacent form and return it to his office by Aug. 24.

Granite Cityans urged to complete the form are persons who failed to return the census questionnaire, mailed to each household prior to last April, 1, or those who were not counted in person by census takers in a call-back program conducted in early May.

The unofficial population total for Granite City in 1970 was 36,086, according to regional census officials. In 1960, the official count was 40,053 residents. An official special census taken here about five years ago "showed a population of 39,550," says Figure Misleading.

"I feel the preliminary figures are misleading and there is something we can do about it," Mayor Partney said today. He noted the community stands to lose "several thousand dollars" from state income tax refunds if the preliminary count remains the same.

"The loss to the city is $5.75 per capita, and according to the preliminary figures we have lost close to 4,000 people, which means a loss of nearly $23,000 from state income tax sources alone," the mayor said.

Additionally, motor fuel tax funds allocated to the city also will be considerably reduced with the lower population count, he said. "I urge all residents to cooperate and return the forms as quickly as possible," he concluded.

The forms will be tabulated by the mayor's staff and the information correlated and relayed to the U.S. Census Bureau's regional office in Chicago, Partney said.

"I urge all residents to cooperate and return the forms as quickly as possible," he concluded.

GC Man Pulls Girl From Missouri Lake

A Granite City man who was spending a camping holiday in Missouri last week was responsible for saving the life of a young child foundering in deep water at Johnson's Shut-ins, it was learned.

Daniel Patterson, 30, of 2412 Benton street, had been swimming in the cold, spring-fed Missouri lake when he heard a child screaming for help. He dove into the water and held the five-year-old girl above his head, bringing the youngster safely to shore.

Patterson, who was accompanied by Gary Ferro of Collinsville, said the child's father had taken another daughter across the lake when the younger girl decided to swim across the stretch of water alone.

About one-third of the way across, the girl, whose name was not obtained, attempted to return to the shore, but began yelling and going under the water, the local man said. The lake, popular with local scuba divers, is between 40 and 50 feet deep.

Patterson currently is employed at American Steel Foundries, but plans to enter Southern Baptist College this fall to study for the ministry.

Fred Mehl, 62, Shot, Killed in Domestic Row

Fred Mehl, 62, of 2225 Delmar avenue, was shot and killed during an argument with his wife, Mrs. Thora Mehl, at their home at about 3:30 p.m. Friday.

His body was found by police in the hall of his upstairs apartment, lying face down in a pool of blood. A .32 caliber revolver was found in a bedroom.

He was pronounced dead at St. Elizabeth Hospital. He was wounded in the left upper chest. Mrs. Mehl, 55, told police that she and her husband were arguing in the kitchen when he reached for the gun on a table, but she grabbed it first. Two shots were fired.

Upon arrival by police, Mrs. Mehl said, "I shot him because he was trying to shoot me."

Mrs. Mehl was released from custody by order of the state's attorney's office pending further investigation. An inquest is to be conducted.

Steel Imports Up In June; Exports Decline Sharply

Steel imports into the United States rose slightly in June, topping one million tons for the second month in a row, but steel exports, after rising for four straight months, dropped sharply.

American Iron and Steel Institute reported that, according to preliminary government figures, foreign producers shipped 1,082,000 tons of steel mill products into the U.S. during the month, an increase of more than 16,000 tons over May. This boosted total steel imports for the first half of 1970 to 5,447,000 tons.

Meanwhile, U.S. exports of steel mill products slumped to 650,715 tons, off 265,773 tons from May, and the lowest export total since last November. First half 1970 exports totaled 4,280,000 tons.

Through the first six months of this year, the declared value of steel imports was 2.9 percent higher than for the comparable period of 1969—even though the six months' tonnage was off 17.7 percent from last year's pace. During this period, steel imports averaged $151.56 per ton in declared value—more than $20 per ton higher than the average per ton value for the first six months of 1969.

Although part of this increase is attributed to a general rise in world prices because of firm demand, foreign steelmakers are also shipping proportionately more of higher value grades of steel into the U.S. market.

In the first half of this year, for example, alloy and stainless products, which composed not quite five percent of total steel imports, accounted for 16 percent of their total value.

Sponsored by the Fine Arts Committee of Horner Park District, the show will bring together well-known performers from neighboring communities who have toured professionally and young recognized talent, all designed to appeal to both young and old.

"Sweet Adelines" who use the theme "Harmonize the World" started four years ago under the direction of Mrs. Midge Galloway and includes members from Collinsville, Edwardsville, Troy, O'Fallon, Caseyville, Fairview, Heights and Granite City. They are kept busy singing for charitable events, public gatherings, and one annual fund-raising concert. Donations received at their performances are being given to the Collinsville community Hospital fund-raising campaign.

Bellringers on Program
Also on the program will be the St. John's Handbell Choirs from Mascoutah, Ill., whose 30 members range in ages 10 to 18. They have been performing since 1968. They began their career with 25 bells cast in the Whitechapel Foundry of London, England and have now increased the number to 61. Directed by Mrs. Adele Olin, the choir belongs to the American Guild of English Handbell Ringers, a national organization.

Sue Riden of East St. Louis and Mike Maxwell of Belleville, will present a popular pop-and-folk song program as they play guitars. They have been associated together since high school and have played at numerous public functions. Exciting interpretive dancing.
